

Masters' Series – Landscape: Jurassic Coast Workshop

Under the tutelage of renowned nature photographer, Chris Weston, on this 2-day workshop you will receive expert tuition and guidance on the techniques of stunning landscape photography, including mastering exposure and managing contrast, depth-of-field and hyperfocal distance focusing, and the art of 'seeing' and composition.

Highlights

- Masters' series concentrates on intermediate-to-advanced techniques and skills
- Superb coastal location
- Learn to master exposure and depth-of-field
- Compositional techniques explained in depth
- Excellent balance of theory and photographic time on location
- Price includes accommodation on twin-share basis

Description

Chris Weston Masters' Series courses are designed for the intermediate level photographers. During classroom sessions we cover the key camera and photographic techniques that lead to compelling images, including selecting the appropriate camera settings, mastering exposure and managing contrast, using technical filter (e.g. graduated neutral density and polarizers), effective focusing, calculating and managing depth of field and mastering hyperfocal distance focusing.

Further we explore and explain the art of composition leading to a comprehensive understanding of what makes a classic landscape photograph.

The tuition is interspersed with up to 10 hours in the field to practice new techniques, along the beautiful Jurassic Coast - a designated World Heritage Site - in Dorset. Chris is on hand throughout each field session to demonstrate all the skills and techniques, to answer questions and to provide guidance on ways to approach landscape photography that you may not previously have considered.

Itinerary

Day 1

09:00 Welcome and introduction

09:15 Tutorial - landscape techniques

12:00 Buffet lunch (provided)

13:00 Photography - location 1

16:00 Photography - location 2

19:00 Transfer to hotel.

Day 2

07:00 Photography - location 3

11:00 Tutorial - composition techniques

13:00 Lunch (provided)

13:45 Tutorial - the art of 'seeing'

16:00 Questions and answers

Additional Information

£245.00 per person

Price includes accommodation on a twin-share basis, breakfast and lunch, refreshments, and transportation.

Location: Jurassic Coast, Dorset

Max Group Size: 12 participants

Course Duration: 2-day course

Workshop Leader: Chris Weston